

TESORO LUXURY VINYL PLANK

Care & Maintenance Guide

Caring For Luxury Vinyl Plank

- Tesoro's floating luxury vinyl plank (including LuxWood, LuxWood XL, Oaksong, and Velluna) is engineered for easy care and offers strong stain and scratch resistance.
- Follow these simple steps to keep your floor looking great and to stay within the terms of your specific product warranty.

Routine Cleaning

- Sweep regularly to remove loose dirt and grit, and vacuum with a soft-surface or bare-floor setting. Avoid a commercial vacuum with a heavy beater bar.
- For weekly cleaning, use a well wrung damp mop with a pH-neutral cleaner made for LVP or laminate flooring. Wipe up spills within 24 hours to adhere to warranty.
- For hard-to-clean marks, a melamine (Magic Eraser-style) pad followed by a damp cloth works well. For deeper cleaning, use a pH-neutral cleaner and a damp mop.

What To Avoid

- Don't wax the floor, use harsh chemicals such as bleach, or clean with abrasive pads.
- Don't use steam cleaners or steam mops — the heat can damage the wear layer and locking joints and may void the warranty. A non-steam dry sweeper (such as a Swiffer-style tool) is acceptable.
- Never drag furniture or heavy objects across the floor — lift them, or use furniture pads.

Protecting The Surface

- Use furniture pads under furniture, chair, and appliance legs, and place protective mats under all rolling chairs.
- Use walk-off mats at every entryway to reduce grit, and adjust blinds to deflect direct sun exposure, which can fade the surface over time.
- For small scratches, a color-matched fill pencil (such as Minwax Blend-Fil) can touch up minor surface marks.

TESORO TIPS

- Maintain consistent indoor temperature between 65– 85°F, which keeps the floating floor's locking joints stable underfoot.
- Avoid rubber-backed mats and rugs, which can discolor or react with the vinyl wear layer over time.
- If in doubt about a cleaning product, check that it's labeled safe for rigid-core or floating LVP flooring before use.

This guide offers general best practices for the care of Tesoro's floating, click-lock luxury vinyl plank flooring. Always follow the printed instructions on your specific cleaning products, and confirm any product recommendation against your warranty documentation. Tesoro is not responsible for damage resulting from improper cleaning products, steam cleaning, or failure to maintain recommended indoor climate conditions.
